QUITE A SPAT AT THE T. & L.C.

A Few Hot Words Were Spoken
by Some of the Delegates,
Over a Resolution

REGARDING BONUSSING

Some Wanted to Discuss It, Others
Said It Was Already Part of Labor Platform

O'DONOHUE GOT ROASTED

Secretary Said He Wouldn't Employ Lawyer Any More Than
He Could Help

Port Arthur, Ont., Sept. 15.—"This is the first piece of live introduced into this congress," said one of the delegates this morning when there was a little breeze blowing at the first session of the Trades and Labor Congress in Port Arthur.

President Glockling threw oil on the troubled waters by saying, "We are clean so far, let us not descend to personalities."

The bone of contention was the introduction of a motion against bonussing. Chairman of Resolutions Campbell said that as that was part of the labor platform he did not see any use of wasting time on it.

Delegate Flinders—"In what part of your constitution does the secretary find anything against bonussing?"

Delegate Pettipiece—"By the usual trickery you are trying to do."

Delegate Flinders: "What trickery? I am not in the chair."

The chair was being temporarily taken during the momentary absence of President Glockling by Delegate France, Mr. France is a French-Canadian delegate from Montreal, and the manner in which he put the motion and the subsequent amendment of non-resolution was not intelligible to some of the audience.

Delegate Somerville: "We want this congress, whether it is a part of the labor platform or not, to go on record as to whether we are in favor of bonussing or not."

Owing to a misunderstanding some voted "yes" when they intended "nay," and confusion reigned for a few seconds until finally it was straightened out by it being moved and seconded that the previous question be reconsidered, when with President Glockling again in the chair, the resolution against bonussing was reaffirmed.

Delegate Mills made a strong plea for a strict boiler inspection resolution. It is said that last year in the United States there were seventy boiler explosions, and during the last five years there were five hundred lives lost and over one thousand injured from that cause. Most of these explosions were put down to a shortage of water when crown sheets had been found to be no thicker than a piece of brown paper.

Secretary Draper said that he thought some mention should be made of the omission of Solicitor O'Donohue's name from this bill to assist in its being passed. "Is Mr. O'Donohue in the hall?" asked the secretary.

A voice—"He is."

Secretary Draper: "Mr. O'Donohue went twice to Ottawa last year. He has been getting $2,000 a year from the government. I told him this year a few far whatever work he did from even a postage stamp and for writing a letter. Thus his bill for under $500, representing a saving of $1,500 from the government, we paid him a yearly salary." As a member of the executive committee I am going to employ Solicitor O'Donohue only when I find I can't get on without him. Mr. O'Donohue asked a raise in salary some time ago and we refused it. Laymen certainly can't us up some time."

Delegate Quessell, returning to the resolution, said that they could not afford to have a man come off a farm, shoveling shavings away from a locomotive for a week or two, and then because he had a pal somewhere, see him elevated to the position of boiler inspector.

WHO'S MISTAKEN

Contradictory reports exist as to the day on which the Canadian manufacturers' Association are to be in Edmonton. The Mayor received a report that they were to be here on the 27th whereas the C. N. R. has instructions to move the train on the 28th.

REFORM LEAGUE IS FORMED IN CALGARY

Direct Legislation League of Calgary Is What They Call

FORM OTHER BRANCHES

Edmonton Will Be Visited Soon
—W. J. Tregillus Was Elected President

Calgary, Sept. 15.—The final organization and formulation of plans of the Direct Legislation League of Calgary took place last night at a meeting held in the Linton and Robinson hall on Eighth avenue east, where about 75 of the reformers convened in a most enthusiastic session.

In keeping with the ideals of a direct legislator the election of officers took place in open meeting, and not with the assistance of a nominating committee as was suggested by some.

The chair was occupied by W. J. Tregillus, who explained the aims and objects of the league. When he had concluded, the motion formally instituting the league was put through.

A code of bylaws, rules, etc., forming a constitution for the league will be drafted and presented at the next meeting.

It was arranged to attempt the organization of a provincial league and after such cities as Medicine Hat, Lethbridge and Edmonton, etc., have formed branches to hold a general provincial convention.

E. E. Taylor would have made it compulsory that each member take a definite committal pledge, a motion to that effect was defeated, receiving the support of only three when it was put to the vote.

E. E. Taylor also thought an accession to the growth of the organization. After some discussion it was decided to permit the executive to appoint an organizer.

The officers were appointed as follows:

President, W. J. Tregillus; vice president, C. Jacobs; second vice president, W. M. Davidson; third vice president, D. McGillicuddy; secretary, J. Thornley; corresponding secretary, Thornton Hall; treasurer, S. Beveridge.

The following is the personnel of the executive committee:

Messrs. Beveridge, Samis, Jamieson, Geddes, Chrysler, Taylor, Lambert, Swift, Crow and Lathwell.

GETTING SERIOUS FOR MARITIMERS

Fear Next Redistribution Will See Five Seats Less for Them in Federal House

St. John, N. B., Sept. 14.—Premier Hazzard, Hon. N. J. Palmer and A. W. Warburton, M. P., of Prince Edward Island, and acting premier McLean of Nova Scotia, are guests of Premier Hazen and will this afternoon discuss federal representation. It is feared that as the result of the redistribution of seats following the taking of the census next year that Nova Scotia and New Brunswick may each lose two seats and Prince Edward Island one seat. Mr. McLean said the question of representation of the maritime provinces in the federal house was getting to be very serious and he felt the action to be taken was very necessary.

JUDGE HARVEY ORDERS RYLEY HOTEL LICENSE
CANCELLED AND ADVISES LICENSE BOARD TO USE MORE DISCRETION.

The Alberta Temperance and Moral Reform League won their case against the granting of a liquor license for Alex. McKinnon of the Ryley Hotel, and the license was ordered to be cancelled with costs. Judge Harvey, in giving this order, said that he was of the opinion that the commissioners should use more discretion in the granting of licenses, and make sure that the conditions were in order before granting it. He found that there were only twenty-seven householders in Ryley, some of which were not even qualified to sign the petition for a license.

Mr. Parlee acting for Mr. McKinnon immediately asked leave to appeal and His Honor before granting this asked how Mr. Parlee expected to be granted leave to appeal from something that it was only intimated would happen. He then granted leave.

Thoughtless People Cost Paving Company Nearly Four Hundred Dollars in Fourteen Blocks

The Bithulthic and Contracting Co., complain of the trouble caused by the thoughtlessness of the public in walking across the soft cement between the rails on Jasper Avenue. A little scout work on the part of a Capital reporter revealed the fact that on one short block on Jasper east fourteen persons and twenty dogs left their footprints graven on stone. As each person leaves two tracks and each track requires a dollar to efface it, the cost on this one block of reforming the human footprints will be $88 and for the dogs about the same. Montreal, Que., Sept. 15.—Credence is lent in semi-official circles to the report that Monsignor Sabretti, now absent in Rome, will not return to Canada to resume the duties of papal legate. For some time past Father Lepelletier, superior-general of the Sulpicians, has been in Canada making an extensive tour throughout the Dominion. In certain quarters this prolonged stay is regarded as an indication of the possibility of his appointment to the delegation at Ottawa, replacing Monsignor Sabretti.

NOT THE BITHULITHIC

Information has come to The Capital that a statement in yesterday's paper to the effect that there is dissent among the teamsters employed by the Bithulthic Company is inaccurate. The statement was not given by an official of the company, but by an irresponsible employee. We are informed from a reliable source that there is the utmost harmony among the employees of the company, both men and teamsters, and that their only difficulty at present, so far as teams are concerned, is that there is rather more work being carried on in town than the available supply of teams can push forward, and that they, in common with the majority of the contractors, are sometimes embarrassed by a temporary shortage. The teamsters have not indicated any intention of asking for more wages than they are now getting and both they and the men are being paid in no cases less than the standard wage.

GEORGIAN CANAL A STATE PROJECT?

Strenuous Efforts Are Now Being Made to Have the Gov-

DEVELOP WATER POWER

And So Pay the Interest—To Be Discussed at Next Session of Parliament

Ottawa, Sept. 15.—It is stated that the Georgian Bay Canal project will likely be a prominent feature of discussion at the forthcoming session. Although a private company has the charter to do this work, influences are being brought to bear to have the government take up the work as a state undertaking. The main argument advanced is that the revenue derived from the development of water power would be sufficient to pay the interest on the cost of the undertaking. It is known that the movement for a definite decision in the matter has some very influential support.

SOME EDMONTON PEOPLE UP NORTH

They Enjoy Living in the Ponca Coupe and Swan Lake Districts—Mr. Kirk Back

Mr. C. J. Kirk of Edmonton has just returned from the Upper Peace River Valley. Speaking of his trip Mr. Kirk said it was very hard to say anything new about the country. So much had already been said.

"What struck me most forcibly, however, was its vast extent," he continued. "I expected to ride across Grande Prairie in one day whereas it took three. The idea of its size I got from the government information which gives the area of Grande Prairie as 200,000 acres instead of 70,000. Settlers are pouring into Grande Prairie in vehicles of all kinds with horses, oxen, or teams composed of both. Already this year 200 homesteads have been made there."

"We went in by the usual route, but came back over the old Klondike trail through the Swan Hills. In my mind that is the better trail. With the exception of a stretch of twenty miles it is much like driving from here to Fort Saskatchewan. The Swan River has to be forded eight times, but that could easily be got over by slightly changing the route. We found many nice farms along the river and the country was well settled."

"We left Ponca Coupe on August 10th and at that time there had been no frost. The gardens on Ponca Coupe Prairie and on Swan Lake, which are both in British Columbia, were the best I ever saw. George and Frank Lester, George Haws and Mr. Reynolds of Edmonton have been here some years and are well satisfied. Mr. Reynolds cut his barley on August 15th and we got samples of it when going through, but there were somewhat damaged coming back. Ponca Coupe Prairie is to be surveyed this fall. In my mind it is possibly a little better than Grande Prairie. The British Columbia line is to be run and the boundaries of the Peace River Block to be surveyed also. This will probably be done by Messrs. Macfarlane and MacMillan, who are surveying in this section. Ponca Coupe Prairie contains about 45,000 acres and is the same size as Spirit River Prairie. We found that the season had been dry, but crops were not much affected."

Mr. Kirk succeeded in locating some of that district, but as it lies in British Columbia he will have to go to Barkerville to complete arrangements for its purchase.

MANUFACTURERS SUPPORT C. F. of L., SAYS SAM GOMPERS

CANADIAN CONFEDERATION OF LABOR GETS SEVERE
SCORING AT HANDS OF UNITED STATES LABOR MAN.

Washington, D.C., Sept. 15.—When Samuel Gompers, President of the American Federation of Labor, was shown a bitter attack at Montreal upon the Federation by the chief executive of the Canadian federation, he commented as follows:

"The Canadian Federation of Labor is imposing in name and name only. It has scarcely any following in Canada. The Trades and Labor congress of the Dominion is the bona-fide organization of the workers of Canada and is in full affiliation with the American Federation of Labor. The industrial, moral and social interests of Canada and the United States are identical. Many of the officers of the American Federation of Labor are Canadians. I have no doubt that the Canadian Federation of Labor entertains the hope of increased membership at the expense of the real workers' organization of Canada, but it is hoped that this will never be realized. The workers of Canada know the advantages of co-operation and they tend to stand as they have so often declared. It occurs to me that this so-called national federation of labor is probably a suborned thing, supported by the manufacturers, who of course would be glad to see a split between labor and the interests of labor in Canada and the United States."

HUBBY QUESTIONS WIFE, ARE WE WED?

Scene in Police Court This Morning
When George Finkle Fac-

George S. Finkle, who resides on First Street, was charged by his wife, Maud Finkle, in the police court this morning on the count of the undertaking. It is known that the movement for a definite decision in the matter has some very influential support.

"Well, you were drunk yesterday, but you are sober now," continued the defendant. "And I ask you after this to treat that woman as you should, and if you don't you will be punished and I shall see that you are."

Finkle said that he would and then followed the policeman downstairs to await his sentence.

A MISTAKEN IDEA

"With the A. & G. W. papers in Calgary supporting Mr. Riley and opposing Mr. Sifton, and the A. & G. W. paper in Edmonton opposing the Sifton administration, it is not very difficult to find out just how the A. & G. W. stands towards the Sifton administration."

That little paragraph is clipped from the Calgary Albertan. Now there is one paper in Edmonton that supports the building of the Alberta and Great Waterways railway. That paper is the Edmonton Daily Capital. Therefore we presume our friend the Albertan refers to us.

But, we ask, what is the Albertan talking about when it says that the Capital is opposing the Sifton administration? The Albertan knows better. The Capital has always been a warm supporter of the present government. We may, occasionally, offer a little friendly criticism, but that surely is not opposition.

And the remark about quoted comes strangely from the Albertan. Seldom or never have we seen a paper fly so completely or suddenly as they have on the question of a certain executive of Public Works. But we must not rub it in.

WHY THE BOOST?

Well, today sees the price of milk go up. Ten cents a quart now. Shortage of hay and feed is the excuse. We wonder if that is really the reason.
Mr. Logan, the milk inspector, surely knows something about these matters, and this word ought to have some weight.

We quote from the Daily Capital of August 16th:

"I do not think that the price of milk will have an increase in the immediate future nor in the autumn, but it can reasonably be expected to have a rise in the early part of the winter."

"When asked by the Capital if the shortage of this year's hay crop will have an effect upon the price of milk, Mr. Andrew Logan, the civic milk inspector, replied in the above terms."

The shortage in the hay crop will not take any effect until then on account of the fact that dairymen as a rule do not commence the home feeding of their cattle until late in the season. Until then cattle will be self-sustaining and no inroads will be made in the "house feed."

A local contemporary stated that the cause of the rise in price was the new regulations. The dairymen have denied this.

Why, then, the boost?

THE GROWTH OF THE EMPIRE

A blue book recently issued by the British Government shows the growth of the Empire in population and trade, the returns being made up to the end of 1908. Exclusive of India and the Crown Colonies, the growth of population in twenty-seven years is shown in the appended table:

United Kingdom	34,884,848	45,008,421
Canada	3,745,574	6,043,000
Australia	2,250,198	4,275,306
New Zealand	490,833	972,982

In 1881 the Empire's total population was 303,694,000, and by 1901 it had increased to 385,357,000. The area of the Empire had increased 11,134,000 square miles. The population of the British Isles is given at 342.4 per square mile; for British India, 213.3;
for New Zealand, 7.8; for Canada, 1.4;
and for Australia 1.3. Of the total population of the Empire about the quarters is credited to India, the population of which, including the native states, is nearly 300,000,000.

RESTRICTIONS ON COMMER-CIAL TRAVELLERS

British Columbia, by imposing a tax on commercial travelers doing business within the province, has adopted a practice which seems to be general all over the world. A British parliamentary blue book just issued summarizes the regulations in force respecting commercial travellers in British states and possessions and in foreign countries. As a rule, licenses are required, the charge running from a mark (25 cents) in Germany to $735 in Salta, a province of the Argentine Republic. Almost invariably, too, licenses are levied on travellers' samples, if they have commercial value, and if he returns home without any of those with which he entered the country, the duty on these samples is not refunded. Various restrictions are laid on commercial travellers by certain countries. In Austria-Hungary they are forbidden to solicit orders from private individuals and business has to be confined to firms or individuals dealing in the class of goods carried.

This does not apply to machinery, building material, motor-cars, typewriters, sewing machines, bicycles and a few other articles. France treats commercial travellers as French travellers are treated, and thus British travellers in that country are free from all special regulation. Britain of course has no restrictions and is thus in line with Indo-China, North Borneo and Abyssinia, which are among the few countries that do not think it necessary to license commercial travellers from other lands.

once more from the United States.
This time it is the Maine election, which has upset all the calculations by

SWIMMING BY MACHINERY

From the Chicago Tribune.
A ten-pound swimming machine that may be packed in a suitcase is the invention of a Frenchman. It is a safe and rapid semi-craft for the man who swims or the man who doesn't. At the front of the apparatus is a cylindrical metal float, with a central point, and a depending rudder. At the rear is another metal float, with stirrups acting upon a propeller, the two ends connected by a wooden bar on which the swimmer lies as if on the water.
Kicking with his feet and alternately pushing and pulling with a cross handle bar just back of the forward float the swimmer on the swimming machine gets a maximum of exercise while making a speed impossible to the ordinary swimmer on the open water.

PETTY THEFTS AND DISHON-
ESTIES

From the Toronto Star.
A man having been arrested in England for stealing towels and soap from a railway coach, an official of the road in giving evidence against him, stated that his company lost by theft twenty thousand towels annually.
These figures are startling.

Those who exhibit at the Canadian National Exhibition, or who display small articles of little value for sale, constantly express their surprise at the way in which passers-by will jokingly pick up little things and pass on, unless somebody is kept on the watch against this kind of thing.

Something has gone wrong with the old idea of common honesty. But after all what can be expected when a mother will ride in a street car with her children and allow these children to see her cheat the company out of her fare unless the conductor catches her at it? Or what can be expected from children when they hear their mother calmly lie to a railway conductor about the age of her son or daughter in order to save a dollar.

THE DISPOSITION OF WATER
POWERS

From the Winnipeg Free Press.

One of the matters in dispute at the late Conservation Convention at St.
Paul was in what hands should the control of water powers be vested—the Federal government or the various state governments. The opinion of the meeting was overwhelmingly in favor of the Federal government exercising the paramount authority. A resolution adopted bearing upon this point was in these terms:

"Reckoning the vast economic benefit to the people of water power developed largely from interstate and source streams to test them from narrable rivers, we favor Federal control of water power development; we

A CENTURY OF PEACE

From the London Times.

It is significant of the good feeling between this country and the United States that there has originated in the latter and in Canada a proposal to celebrate the anniversary of the Ghent treaty of 1814. It is needless to say that if, as is proposed, the executive committee sends representatives to this country to discuss and arrange details, they will be welcomed.

If arbitration is now almost universally resorted to for the settlement of such questions; if war about purely geographical problems, the actual position of a watershed, the true continuation of a particular chain of mountains, the head waters of a river, seems nowadays absurd and wicked; if, in fact, there be a clear and reasonable hope behind that movement of the human conscience which as Cecil B. Tubb said in his speech of welcome yesterday, has brought about the meeting of another Peace Congress at Stockholm—this is due in large degree to the example set by Great Britain and the United States, first by the Jay treaty and afterward by the many arbitrations which followed the Treaty of Ghent. Great Britain and the United States are, moreover, better qualified than any other powers to secure acceptance for the example which they have set. Sir Wilfrid Laurier dwelt eloquently upon this aspect of their relations in a speech delivered recently to an assembly of American immigrants at Winnipeg. He did not overstate the case. The British Empire and the American Republic count between them over one hundred and thirty millions of European race. In their desire of it lies the world's best hope of peace.

CANADA'S NAVY

From the New York Sun.

The Nineteenth Century for September publishes a discussion, from the British imperialistic point of view, of the marvellous growth of the Dominion of Canada, and the almost boundless prospect of population and power which is before it. If the writer of this article, Captain Cecil Battine, fails to dwell with sufficient intelligence on any one factor of Canada's future development in population, prosperity and national sentiment, the neglected patriotic is the friendly, sympathetic interest with to construct suitable craft for a struggle on the inland waters, as remote as possible from a possible raid, and having access to the lake by the waterway of the St. Lawrence. It is a striking example of the permanent principles of strategy that the rally of the St. Lawrence is the key to military supremacy in Canada now, as it was when Wolfe so gallantly won Quebec for England, and the valley of the Hudson still leads the way to the vitals of the United States if a northern invader should be bold enough to take the initiative.

Would the construction of a naval force of "suitable craft for a struggle on the inland waters" and its retention for that purpose in a safe and convenient place ready for launching it upon the great lakes "by the waterway of the St. Lawrence" require, in a faithful observance of the spirit of the agreement of 1817, the annulment of the stipulation by means of the prescribed six months notice from Canada?

Let us not talk or think of such things on neither side of the border.
Let such speculations be monopolized by Captain Battine, the discoverer of the most available route for an invasion from the north and an attack on "the vitals of the United States" by a Canadian army.

Saturday

From New Westminster Daily News.

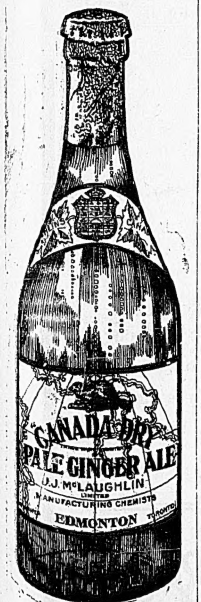

Thomas Noah Brasso Burns made his heretofore re-appearance in lacrosse circles at Recreation park yesterday afternoon, stepping out on the field amid simultaneous cheers and making his final exit carried shoulder high by his admirers of the Terminal City. It was a great day for Thomas, for he helped to defeat Westminster seven goals to one.

Thomas Noah Brasso Burns, a fine specimen of manhood, looked every inch an athlete when he made his bow to the enthusiastic crowd in the grand stand. True, he was a little bit fleshy for a home player, but his movements were not quite so swift as in the days of yore when he played in the east for less money per season than he received yesterday for fifty minutes work.

Thomas Noah Brasso Burns was killed as yesterday's star attraction. Well, he was, and no mistake. Here are a few of the famous things T. N. B. Burns achieved:

- Lost the ball 999 times.
- Lost his footing 888 times.
- Lost his bearings 777 times.
- Lost a chance to score 666 times.
- Lost his lacrosse stick 555 times.
- Lost himself 444 times.
- Lost a foot race 333 times.
- Lost a chance to fight 222 times.
- Lost his instructions 111 times.
- Lost his temper 000 times.

In addition to the above, Thomas Noah Brasso Burns secured the first jump of the game, was used as a jumping horse by Charlie Galbraith, was thrown by Tommy Gifford, was pounced by Sandy Gray, was bodied by Jimmy Gifford, and was hit on the head with a cushion thrown from the grand stand. Hit—Oh, yes, Tommy N. B. Burns was also hit a wallop on the jaw by George Rennie.

HOCKEY LEAGUE
FOR THIS WINTERA Provincial League Would be the Making of Hockey in Alberta

(Calgary Herald.)
That Calgary has just had a very successful season in nearly every line of sport is a mooted question. Perhaps the only sport not entirely successful was lacrosse, but the downfall of that league was not directly due to the Calgary team. We have heard rumors regarding hockey, and this kind of all sports does not take back seat with local fans. Some excellent material can be found in Calgary, and there is no reason why the championship team cannot be selected right in this city. A provincial amateur league has been suggested, including teams from every part. Two or three divisions could be formed, and each division play a schedule of games, then at the end of the season the winners of each division could play semi-final and final games. A league of this sort, controlled by the proper officers, would be a success. Men deeply interested in the sport, active workers and pushers, would have to be selected as president and members of the executive. Men holding prominent positions and possessing the confidence of the public and players, would be the only calibre worthy of recognition. The league would have to be started early, inasmuch that all arrangements would necessitate early work. A meeting in the near future of all interested in hockey, at which the officers could be elected, would be a move. Other cities will support such a league; don't you think it would be a good idea?

Professional hockey is a dead issue as far as Edmonton is concerned. Recent Ottawa despatches to the contrary. If the citizens are to have hockey it must be of the senior amateur variety, which makes fine, clean, and beautiful sport.

There is ample material in the city for two crackerjack teams which could compete in any company, and Edmonton would gladly enter a provincial league. The organization would be an onerous undertaking, but if, as the Herald suggests, the right men can be interested, there is no reason why the scheme can't be carried out. Last season Edmonton and Calgary supported fast city leagues, while Stettler, Red Deer, Lacombe, and Strathcona had speedy septettes. There were also many speedy teams on the C. N. R., of which Lloydminster was the class.

A provincial league, would of necessity, be divided into a number of districts, the winners to play off in the finals for the championship. The sooner this movement gets under way the better for the future of Alberta hockey and the Capital wishes to offer just two suggestions to its promoters. First, the league must supply itself with an amateur card, and secondly, let there be a strict residence rule which must be lived up to.

VANCOUVER IS AHEAD

Is the Only Team in Northwestern
League Making Money—Changes
Next Year

Vancouver, Sept. 15.—Joe Cohn, owner of the Spokane franchise, has asked President W. H. Lucas to call a meeting of the league directors the Tuesday after the close of the season to decide on the circuit for next year. As all the magnates are anxious to have the important question settled as soon as possible, the meeting will probably be called. It now looks as if it would be a Northwestern League again, enlarged to six clubs, to take in Victoria and Everett, who are applicants for franchises. Many Northwestern fans would like to see this league merged with the Pacific Coast League, but that possibility becomes smaller and smaller. This has not been a paying season for any of the magnates except Bob Brown, who believes a six-city league, with Victoria and Everett, will be a money-maker. Before any money will be made in this league, however, the club owners will have to quit paying absurdly high salaries and limit their payroll.

The V.M.C.A. senior basketball team will hold its first practice this evening in the gymnasium.

HUB SCHWARTZ'S RELEASE

Fake Telegram Started Stingy Bush-Leaguer Setting
'Em Up—The Morning After

By W. A. Phelon

You don't hear much of Hub Schwartz nowadays—that is, in the great world of baseball. He has passed out of the memory of the fans, and is contented to thrive and prosper as a Cincinnati business man. Long ago, however, Hub Schwartz was a rattling good performer and one of the peachiest in the old Southern League.

In those golden days, payday was a great event and a sudden memory. A ballplayer's salary didn't last long and while it lasted life was gold and scarlet. The Southern Leaguers were as gay as a gang as any of them, and their money flew like water shaking off the back of a millard duke. Hub Schwartz, like the rest of his day, was a good fellow, and blew his money freely, but somehow or other, he managed to have a small war under cover.

News that Mr. Schwartz had real cash money and plenty of it, under shelter, travelled fast in the Southern league, and many were the wiles by which the players sought to lure the bankroll from his lair. But Hub was cagey. He declined to stand for loans, no matter how specious was the well-considered story of the borrower, and he couldn't be coaxed into investments where the investee would be left to hold the bag. The boys had almost despaired of gathering Hub's roll, when a great thought entered the brain of Bill Joyce, destined in the after-days to be a National League star.

It was the night following payday. Most of the boys had already spent their cheques, but Mr. Schwartz had managed to cling to quite a section of his money. Full of content and happiness Mr. Schwartz entered the hotel where the players stopped, and

DECOTEAU EXPLAINS WHY

Edmonton, Sept. 14th, 1910.
To the Sporting Editor of the Capital City:

Dear Sir—I would appreciate it very much if you would publish the following letter from Mr. Decoteau. I am asking you to do this because I feel there is some explanation due the public and the A. A. A. why Mr. Decoteau failed to go east to compete in the Dominion championship meet at Montreal, September 24th, next, although all arrangements down to the smallest detail had been completed. In this latter connection on behalf of the Irish Association, I would like to thank Messrs. Ballantyne and Ward, governors of the A. A. A. for their assistance in helping us to make such complete arrangements for the trip.

Yours truly,
JOS. DECOTEAU,
Secretary I. C. A. A. A.

Edmonton, Sept. 14th, 1910.
Edmonton Irish Canadian Athletic Association, City:

Gentlemen—Owing to personal reasons I find at the last moment that I am unable to go to Montreal to compete at the Dominion championship meet to be held there September 24th and 25th next.

I am deeply sorry to have to take this step, as I am well aware that the club has gone to a great deal of trouble in perfecting all the plans to enable me to make this trip, both by personal subscription and otherwise.

Yours respectfully,
(Sgd) ALEX. DECOTEAU.

RECEPTION TO HILLHURST

Calgary Will Give Royal Welcome to
New Holders of Peoples' Shield

Calgary, Sept. 15.—Arrangements are being made to give the Hillhurst football team, winners of the People's Shield in the east, a reception when they return to Calgary on Saturday night. The Hillhurst committee have decided to give them a creditable welcome, for the team has accomplished much, and the city is proud of their success.

The reception will consist of a parade, and in all probability, a banquet, also other arrangements will be made to complete one of the best programmes possible.

was handed a telegram. Death in the family. Ah, yes. That wire contained words to rejoice the very soul of any ball player, especially a minor leaguer struggling for renown.

And this was what he read, these were the words it said:
Mr. Hub Schwartz, Birmingham, Ala.:
"I have purchased your release. Will pay you $3,500. Report at once to Chicago. A. C. ANSON."

Mr. Schwartz gave vent to frantic shrieks of joy, and leaped up and down, likewise down and up. He rushed to find the other players and had no trouble in locating them—singularly enough they all happened to be standing in the nearby corridor. He showed them the telegram, and then announced that he would celebrate as became a man thus promoted to stardom in the National League. He would set 'em up all night, and nobody else could buy a beer.

It was 5 a. m. when sundry ball-players straggled into the hotel. They all cheering for Schwartz of boy, and Schwartz was bowing right and left, the hero of the hour. He thought his room, aided by three bell-boys, and took out the relics of his hoarded roll. All that was left was 97 cents and a collar button.

Ah, what's the difference? For up North Uncle Anson was waiting, and stardom was at the journey's end. After a little sleep Mr. Schwartz hurried a wire to Uncle, thus: "Kindly wire transportation. Am temporarily short of funds."

And, two hours later, back came the reply: "Who the benighted blazes are you? A. C. Anson. (Coll. 45.)"

Bill Joyce had faked the glorious wire of the night before.

ROYAL CITY IS VERY SANGUINETeam Looks for Good Contest With Nationals, but With Usual Result

New Westminster, Sept. 14.—The team that will meet the Nationals on Saturday in the first game of the Minto Cup series has put in a very strenuous season of lacrosse. Despite this fact the players will be in the best of conditions for the big match. At any rate they are leaving nothing undone to acquire this result. Good practices have been held nightly and everything undertaken that will lead to speed and wind to meet the speedy Frenchmen Westminster never holds its opponents lightly and it is pretty generally recognized that in the latest challenges the team will be up against perhaps its hardest games yet in defending the mug.

Tom Rennie, who has figured in many historic games of the team, will not be in condition to play, but the other standbys will be in evidence. The players departed from precedent the other night in taking up football for the evening. The team work, passing and stick handling is about as perfect as it is possible for them to be; what they are striving for now is speed and endurance. It is generally believed that the games will go the way of all other Minto Cup games which have been held at Queen's Park but the local public expects a better run for its money with the Nationals than with any of the other challengers. Lacrosse enthusiasts have a wholesome respect for "Newsy" Lennie's playing and it is figured that any aggression that he is associated with will give a good account of itself.

There has been a cut in prices for the present series, the admission to the bleachers having been reduced to 25 cents; the former price being 50 cents. The bleachers will not be reserved. The general admission has been placed at 50 cents as formerly.

BURT AND POTTS

Burt and Potts had their final workouts yesterday afternoon at the Senate Gym, and will now ease up a little in their training for the hour which takes place tomorrow evening in Strathcona Opera House.

Hay punching, wrestling, shadow boxing, skipping the rope and a few rounds with local amateurs comprised both men's programme yesterday and as one of the onlookers admirably stated, "they are both fighting fools." Spectators can be assured of a run for their money on Friday, and should secure their seats early. The play was opened yesterday and the performances are going with a rush. Tickets are on sale at all the cigar stores.

NIAGARA BEAT HILLHURST

Niagara Falls, Sept. 15.—By a score of 1 to 0 the Colonial football club of this city defeated Hillhurst, champions of Canada, this afternoon.

The champions did not take the game very seriously, and appeared to show the effects of their hard tournament games. The grounds were wet, and players on both teams experienced much difficulty in keeping their feet.

The local team had the best of matters at the start, and Boss had to save twice. Effrick, the star wing player of the home team, made several brilliant runs, but his efforts went begging.

Nuttall went right through the defence, but shot yards wide of the home goal. At half time no score had been made.

During the second half the visitors gave a nice exhibition, using excellent team work, in which the locals were shown the effects of their hard tournament games. The grounds were wet, and players on both teams experienced much difficulty in keeping their feet.

SCUTTLE CLUB
WILL 'GET' THEMBaseball Players Cannot Gaze at Stars Through Beer Bottles and Still Make Good.

If you want to stay in big league baseball do not join the "scuttle club."

There was a time when it didn't matter much, but nowadays managers insist on their hired men fighting shy of the stuff that cheers, but also has the effect of causing good pictures to bump the tarp bums.

"Bugs" Raymond has been dumped by Manager McGraw and "Bugs" is now running a team of his own, known as the "Colleagues," at Atlantic City. The "Bug" had a great desire for the amber fluid and despite the fact that McGraw appointed a keeper for him, "Bug" managed to elude his keeper now and then and get over-loaded with the juice.

McGraw finally became tired of trying to keep the "Bug" right and handed him his suspension. The "Insect" did not like the idea of sitting on the bench and went to Atlantic City and formed a team of his own.

It is now his own boss and can roll in the amber fluid to his heart's content. There will be no one to kick. This is what the "Bug" likes. His chances of getting back into organized ball, however, is pretty slim.

Rube Waddell.
Another player who can blame his downfall to the amber fluid is the famous "Rube" Waddell formerly of Philadelphia and St. Louis of the American League, but now a member of Joe McGinnity's Newark Indians of the Eastern League.

Jack O'Connor, manager of the St. Louis team, says he is going to give the "Rube" another chance.

"The last chance that he will get from me, and you can bet your last dollar on that," said O'Connor in Boston the other day.

There is no more chance for "Rube" will come back and stay for any length of time, for according to the various sporting papers of the Eastern League circuit, the "Rube" is still hitting the high ones.

Thursday he was knocked out of the box in the ninth inning. To tell the truth, "Rube" was not knocked out of the box as the term applies, but after he had passed two men in the ninth inning refused to pitch and walked from the box to the Newark bench and told his manager, Joe McGinnity, to go in and finish the game. The manager did. Don't look as though the "Rube" was keeping straight. Let's pass the "Rube" and take our next number from the "Scuttle Club."

Lefty Sallee.
The Cardinals have one in the person of Lefty Sallee. The majority of the "Scuttle Club" members are south-paws. Wonder why?

Sallee, when right, is one of the greatest left-handed pitchers in the National League. Just now he is laboring under a suspension handed out to him by Manager Bresnahan a few weeks ago for his inability to keep away from the product of the brewery plant.

About a month or so ago, Sallee was resting in one of the St. Louis hospitals, trying to overcome his desire for the foamy. It was in vain, for as soon as he came out he immediately hit it up again and was immediately placed upon the suspension list. His days in the big leagues are numbered, an all on account of his thirst. He's due for a trip to the bush.

And that's the way the "Scuttle Club" gets the best of them.

ROUGH RIDERS DO WELL

Stan, Dave and Smith are helping Out the Vancouver Team.

Wally Smith and Pete Standridge of the Calgary Rough Riders, are making names in the North Western League. The other day Smith broke up a game between Vancouver and Seattle in the sixth inning by a home run drive, crossing the plate with the only counter of the game.

Smith was not so successful in the field, making three boots.
The Spokane Chronicle says of Smith:

"Young Pete Standridge, who was named out to the Calgary club by Bob Brown at the opening of the season, is being touted as a wonder by many of the wise old heads who saw him in action in the Twilight League. Standridge reported to the Rough Riders at the close of last season, and when Brown gathered his bunch together this spring the youngster was turned over to Bill Carnegie to use. The work of the youngster attracted much attention in the north, and now Ruby Bob agrees to give him a chance in the North-western league before the close of the season. Standridge will probably be used against the Indians in the hard series arranged for next week."

Semi-Steel Fire-Pot—Not Gray Iron

A FIRE-POT of a furnace should be able to endure tremendous heat and to repel the attacks of sulphur fumes.

The material commonly used for a fire-pot is gray iron. The Sunshine fire-pot is Semi-Steel.

Now, avoiding technical terms, gray iron has what may be called "open" pores. Through these "open" pores the destructive sulphur fumes attack the iron and hasten disintegration.

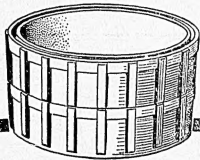

On the other hand, Semi-Steel is a close-grained material, with a smooth-as-glass surface which practically seals or "closes" up the pores. Semi-Steel easily repels the attacks of gas fumes and thus greatly prolongs the life of the fire-pot.

A Semi-Steel fire-pot weighs 20 per cent. heavier than the same size and pattern in gray iron. It is therefore better able to endure tremendous heat.

Semi-Steel is made by an exclusive McClary process. You can only get a Semi-Steel fire-pot with a McClary furnace. That is one strong reason why you should have the Sunshine installed in your home. Our agent in your locality will tell you many other reasons. Ask him.

Remember, the Sunshine is guaranteed by the largest makers of furnaces in British Empire, to heat your home to your entire satisfaction.

MR. BOWN'S ??? Re DUNLOP CLAIM

They Were Taken Up at the Commissioner's Meeting Yesterday Afternoon

The claim of J. Dunlop, the contractor for the erection of the city pump house, for $500, which he maintains is due him under the contract was again under consideration by the commissioners at their meeting yesterday afternoon. City Solicitor Bown, reporting on the matter, brought up a number of points, stating that the question was the foundation put in by the city deep enough to obtain a good bottom; had Architect Lines devised a building too large for the foundation; were the materials supplied by the city at fault; did Dunlop carry on his work in a proper manner? had a great deal to do with arriving at a decision. He suggested that the commissioners consider the matter further and determine whether it would be better to dispute the claim of Architect Lines as well.

H. H. Farley, who is acting for Dunlop, states that he will not be satisfied with less than $450. The matter was left over.

A. E. Cleaden applied for a loan from the sinking fund of $12,000 to be devoted to the erection of a solid brick block on lot 28, block 8, H. B. R. The application was referred to Commissioner Duthart to get an independent valuation on the property. J. A. Canton having agreed to pay half the cost of repairing the sidewalk in front of his block on Nayam avenue, instructions were issued to the city engineer to proceed with the work.

The request of the trustees of North Edmonton Methodist church and parsonage for the extension of the electric light system to these buildings, was referred to the electric light department for investigation and report.

The owners of Glenora, the property west of the Groat ravine bridge will be notified that the contract for this bridge has been let, and that, in accordance with their agreement with the city, they will be required to proceed with the construction of the two wooden bridges on their property.

Instructions were issued to the city engineer's department to arrange for the re-survey of the lane south of Jasper, the exact lines of which have been in dispute, complaint of encroachment having been laid before the commissioners recently by Mr. Berg.

The city engineer was instructed to proceed with the construction of the five-foot concrete sidewalk along the west side of Fifth street from Victoria avenue to the top of the hill.

It was agreed that before demolishing the grand stand on the old exhibition grounds, the exhibition association should be given the opportunity to state whether they desire to make use of it in the new exhibition grounds.

The proposal to grant free transportation to the police and members of the fire department in the discharge of their duty, was referred to Commissioner Bouillon to make further inquiries.

Commissioner Barchart will make inquiries as to rates, etc., for insurance against accident of the city's employees in the street railway and other departments.

Razor Honors.

A razor hone which has been spoiled by steel particles filling the pores can be made as good as new by washing in hydrochloric acid and then in water.

Grasshoppers.

Grasshoppers have their organs of hearing at the base of the abdomen—that is, at the same place where the corresponding organ of the noctuidae has been discovered.

Earth's Fertile Area.

The earth's fertile area is estimated at 23,000,000 square miles.

Japanese Building.

The Japanese builder starting on a house always begins with the roof. When this is finished he takes 20 to 30 pieces, numbers the sections and puts it aside until the rest of the structure is completed.

Some Remarkable Beliefs.

There are people in this day and age who believe that housewives will turn to living snakes, that toads will live for thousands of years in the cavity of a rock without food or water, that the barnacle goose was developed from the shellfish of that name and that the bird-called-sora is a species of winged frog.

"The nearest the man who carried the case say, with a smothered laugh. 'The only Barney McGinn's old white horse taking a drink out of the sluice box. He often does that.'"

Then the sheriff spoke said: "McGinn's horse is in town tonight, with Barney on her back. Horse or no horse, I'm going to—' The rest was lost in the swift action with which he snatched the firearm from the first speaker, sighted and fired.

In the still night, the concussion seemed to rock the ground and roused a hundred echoes. It startled and shocked the listening girl, but not so much as the sound that followed it—a cry that had nothing animal-like and that sent the men running down the slope toward an object that lay hidden by the sluice box.

In horrified curiosity Jessica followed, slipping from shadow to shadow. She saw the slithering animal down and draw a collapsed and empty horse-skin from a figure whose throbbing came it would never clasp again.

"So it was you, after all, Prendergast!" the sheriff said contemptuously. The white face stared up at them, venomous and writhing, turning about the circle as though searching for some one who was not there.

"How did you guess?"

The sheriff, who had been making a swift examination, answered the pointed question. "You have no time to think of that now," he said.

A shiver took hold into the flaring yellow eyes, and hatred and cunningly rekindled them. Prendergast struggled to a sitting posture, then he lay back, convulsed.

"He was the only one who knew—how it was done. He's clever, but he can't get the best of Prendergast." A spasm distorted his features. "Wait—wait!" He fumbled in his breast, and his fingers brought forth a crumpled piece of paper. He thrust it into the sheriff's hands.

"Look! Look!" he gasped. "The man they found murdered on the chin—' He pointed with his finger to the paper. "Dr. Moreau. I found him—him—him—"

Strength was fast falling him. He tried again to speak, but only inarticulate sounds came from his throat.

A blind terror had clutched the heart of the girl leaning from the shadow. "Dr. Moreau—murdered—Why, he had been one of Hugh's friends? Why did this man come to Hugh's name with all that worst of crimes? What dreadful thing was he trying to tell? She heard a desperate desire to scream aloud. Be careful what you say, Prendergast," said the sheriff sternly.

The wretched man gathered force for a last effort. His voice came in a speaking whisper.

"It was Stiles killed him. Moreau wrote it down—and I kept the paper. Still Hugh—we break—even!"

Chapter 25

WHILE the man whom the town knew as Hugh Stiles listened to the tale of the street preacher, another, unlike yet curiously like him in feature, had slowly climbed the steep slope from the north by the sanatorium road. He walked with a jaunty swagger like of too frequent applications to a flask in his pocket.

As he walked unostentatiously along Hugh struck more than once from the dark to deaden the superstitious dread of the place which was stealing over him. On the crest of the ridge he skirted the sanatorium grounds and at length gained the road that twisted down toward the lights of the town.

In the dusky moonlight he mistook the narrow trail to the cabin for the lower path to the cabin. As he turned into the report of a rifle came faintly from the gully below.

He quickened his steps and stumbled off at once into the little clearing that held the new man's grave and Jessica's statue. The sight terrified his intoxicated imagination. His hair rose. The moon on the headstone was Stiles, and there was himself—no, a ghost of himself—sitting near! He turned and broke into a run down the steep slope.

In his fear—for he imagined the white figure was pursuing him—he tripped and fell, regained his feet, rushed across the level space, threw his weight against the cabin door and burst into the room.

A dog sprang up with a growl, and in the light of the fire that burned on the hearth a man sitting at the rough hewn table lifted a haggard face from his arms, and each recognized the other.

The ghost was gone now before fire-light and human presence, and Hugh, with a loud laugh of dry incredulity, waved his hand at the dog before him.

FIND PEARLS WITH X-RAYS

French Company Formed to Utilize the Rays Under Water—To Be Cheaper

SAVE THE OYSTERS' LIVES

They Will Not Be Opened Unless Rays Show They Contain Pearls

Paris, Sept. 14.—A French company has been formed for finding pearls in oysters by the aid of X-rays. This will make pearls cheaper and cost fewer human lives.

As the ancient Greeks of Ceylon and their successors, the Portuguese, Dutch and English, persecuted pearl fishing, there is an immense amount of waste, both of human life and the pearl yielding animal, a sort of oyster.

The shellfish is brought up to the surface by divers under military guard and the oysters are opened and searched for pearls after they decay.

As only one per cent of the oysters brought up contain pearls, millions upon millions of the shellfish are destroyed uselessly, and their food value is lost.

Now an apparatus has been got up, by which the oysters secured at the bottom of the sea may be searched for pearls by X-rays at the rate of one hundred per minute.

The oysters containing pearls will be separated, and the others either used for food or thrown back into the sea, where they may accumulate pearls for the coming season or seasons.

This is putting pearl fishing on a business basis, and the ladies will benefit. Her loss of pearls the present unscientific search will be avoided, millions of oysters' lives will be saved, and more oysters will be able to accumulate pearls.

Just the same, ladies wearing pearls will be carrying around their necks the sarcophagus, glittering, but a coffin of a miserable worm.

A SAFE THAT HAS STOOD THE TEST

Safes, good safes, are something that interest a business man. The Morris Safe and Lock Company, who are general agents for "The Hall's Safe Company," of Cincinnati, Ohio, are handling a safe of which they are justly proud. Although they did not have an exhibit at the local exhibition, they have something which is of far more value to the man who is interested in safes than any mere exhibit. They have proofs of the actual work of the Hall's safe. These proofs come from Nelson, B. C., where one of their safes stood the extreme test of fire very successfully.

The following letters speak for themselves. They were sent to Mr. Percy Hall Johnson, the Calgary agent for the firm.

Norris Safe & Lock Co., (General Agents, The Hall's Safe Co., Cincinnati, Ohio).

Dear Sir: At the request of your representative Mr. R. F. Stevens, who asked me to write you in regard to the recent fire of July 5th, which totally destroyed the Kreschmer Shingle Mill, and the Kootenay Engineering Works, Ltd., also a number of other houses, the fire was one of the worst and hottest Nelson ever had, destroying property worth $10,000.

There is no fire in Nelson that could burn and be any hotter than that of the Kootenay Engineering Works, in which stood one of your No. 345 thin wall, double door, Hall's Safe. The heat was so intense that it was not approachable nearer than thirty yards, lasting about two hours. The water thrown towards it, with 10 pounds pressure per square inch, turned into steam and floated away on the breeze before reaching the burning flames. The dial was burnt off, the lands twisted and the safe was badly warped, but the contents were saved. The safe was in good order, which could hardly be expected of any safe.

I would gladly recommend the Hall's safe as to its fireproof qualities. Yours respectfully, D. GUTHRIE, Chief Nelson Fire Department, Nelson, B. C.

Percy H. Johnson, Esq., Norris Safe & Lock Co., (General Agents, The Hall's Safe Co., Cincinnati, Ohio).

Dear Sir: I am in receipt of your favor dated July 5th, and in compliance with request therein beg to inform you, that I have visited the scene of the fire mentioned above and made a thorough examination of the Hall's Safe, which came through this fire. With pleasure I am able to inform you that the safe has apparently suffered no damage. Undoubtedly the contents are safe. Interior is in perfect when removed showed no signs of damage. Am informed that this was an exceptionally hot fire, and it must be gratifying to learn that your safe stood the test so well.

BRITISH MINT MADE ENORMOUS PROFIT

Cleared $3,300,000 in Two Years in Coining of 13,000,000 Pieces

MILLIONS IN SWEEPINGS

Ireland Wants More Silver Than Scotland—Products of the Colonial Mints

London, Sept. 14.—The British mint has made a profit of more than $3,300,000 in the last two years. Since 1882 the total net profits of coinage have amounted up to $3,800,000. It is one of the most profitable government concerns of the kind on earth.

In one year alone, 1000, the profit was almost $5,000,000.

In the last year, so it appears from the report of Deputy Master W. E. Macartney, just submitted to Parliament, about 75,500,000 pieces were coined for the home government, and 37,480,000 for the colonies. This was 16,000,000 pieces below the record for 1908, so far as the home money supply was concerned. As between the metals, the mint produced:

Gold coins $90,000,000
Silver coins 6,000,000
Bronze coins 60,000,000

The number of the chief kinds of coins was as follows:

Sovereigns $14,480,000
Shillings 5,826,000
Sixpences 6,688,000
Threepences 4,221,000
Pence 9,743,000
Halfpence 8,316,000
Farthings 8,861,000

The Bank of England during the year took in $45,500,000 gold coins, of which 34,210,000 were sovereigns. Each gold piece was weighed to test the amount of its "lightness"—the extent it had worn in its passage through the hands of the people.

The experts of the "Old Lady of Threadneedle street," as the Bank of England is called, have tested almost 866,000,000 sovereigns, and half-sovereigns in the last twenty-eight years.

Silver coins are more in demand in Ireland than in Scotland. Of the silver pieces coined, the two-shilling piece, and the six-penny piece are the ones in greatest use in England.

The branch mints in Australia and Canada coined gold in the year to the value of $8,700,000. More than $7,800,000 was realized by the British mint from the sale of gold sweepings, and $7,100,000 from silver sweepings. The colonial coinage in India during the financial year consisted of 5,007,000 cents, 1,200,000 half cents, and 1,200,000 cents for the Straits Settlements, struck at the Calcutta mint, and $8,700,000 British dollars, struck at the Bombay mint.

FIND PIN IN GIRL'S APPENDIX

Case Without Parallel in Medical Records Found in Chicago

Chicago, Sept. 12.—Physicians at the Provident hospital, found a pin in the appendix of a girl. The pin was straight and had travelled through the child's body without damaging any other part. The child will recover.

Josephine Shovercraft, 6 years old, 3038 Forest avenue, was admitted to the hospital Saturday suffering from appendicitis, and an operation was found to be necessary.

When the appendix was taken out Sunday, Dr. U. C. Bailey, who performed the operation, discovered a straight pin, about an inch long had lodged in it, having been there apparently for some time.

The case is considered remarkable because the pin had travelled over fourteen feet between the esophagus, stomach, and bowels without perforating the wall. In most cases where pins have been swallowed the pin has pierced the wall of an intestine and lost itself in the tissues of the body, occasionally causing death.

Stettler, Sept. 12.—The foundation stone of the Stettler new brick and stone school, costing between thirty and forty thousand dollars, was laid this afternoon by Dr. Torg, who was presented with a silver trowel as a memento.

The school children, who carried flags and banners, formed in procession at the present school, and, headed by the town band, marched to the new structure, where a big crowd assembled to witness the ceremony.

Speeches were delivered by Chairman Ball, Mayor Grigg, Dr. Torg, Principal Nelson and the school inspectors for the province. The speeches were interspersed with music, and the singing of "The Maple Leaf" by the school children. A box containing current coins, newspapers and records, was deposited in the foundation stone.

MAN WEIGHED THE WORLD

New York Professor With Head for Figures—Will Now Weigh a Sunbeam

New York, Sept. 14.—Admitting that he may be wrong to the extent of five or six atoms, Reinhard A. Wezel, instructor in physics at the City College, announced today that the earth weighs 6,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000 grams or seven trillion tons.

Wezel has a rare "head for figures," and the apparatus he used in computing the weight of this mundane sphere was so delicate that he had to carry on his experiments after midnight to avoid the jarring of footsteps in the corridor of the building where he worked. He has now set himself to the task of weighing an ordinary sunbeam.

Porcelain. Porcelain was discovered by an alchemist who was seeking a mixture of earths that would make the most durable crucibles.

The Teeth. One of the commonest causes of bad teeth is that of taking very hot food. If you take a cup of very hot tea or coffee the enamel on the teeth expands, and breathing the cold air afterward causes it to contract. This alternate expansion and shrinking of the enamel work havoc with it, and when it cracks, as it soon does, the inner part of the tooth crumbles away in no time.

Infant Marriages. Turkey perhaps offers more facilities for the marriage of infants than any other European country. Ottoman requirements are met if bride and bridegroom are old enough to toddle from the cradle to the altar and to understand the meaning of the ceremony of marriage.

The Coffee Plant. Abyssinia is the original home of coffee, and the plant is still grown there in its native luxuriance and primitive abundance.

Japanese Books. Japanese books all begin at what we should call the end and finish up where one would expect the title page to be. Footnotes, if any, are placed at the top of the page, and the reader inserts his bookmark at the bottom. Strangest of all, a large full stop is placed at the beginning of each paragraph.

The Stage as a School. The older Pitt liked Shakespeare, but not the labor of reading plays. He enjoyed hearing them and once said that he had learned more English history at the theater than at the university.

A Queer African Tribe. The Suk tribe in Africa work their hair into a kind of bag-shaped matted clignon. Sometimes when they sleep almost to the waist. The Saks also wear a curious cap made of monkey skin rubbed soft. This cap is not worn for warmth or protection from the sun, but when it rains they put the cap over their heads to prevent the clay being washed out of their hair.

Rice. Rice has been the staff of life for more than half the population of the world since beyond the beginning of recorded time.

The Town of Mothers. The town of Leoben, in Wurttemberg, is known as the "town of mothers," for there the mothers of Schiller and Kepler lived. On the walls of the old castle where the Magna Charta of Wurttemberg liberties was signed by Ulrich, the well beloved, tablets have been placed in honor of the mothers of the poet and the astronomer.

AN ECHO FROM DICKENS' PERIOD

The times in which Dickens lived were days which needed much reformation. It was with the view of erasing social evils that most of his works were compiled. "Nicholas Nickleby" is perhaps the most popular of his writings and at the same time it is the book which practically overthrew the old and disreputable method of education practiced by the private schools. The story centres round Dotheboys Hall, a seminary for boys who were found to be in the way at home. The craft and villainy exercised by the master, Mr. Squeers, would never have been brought to light but for the advent of Nicholas Nickleby in the hall as assistant teacher. Of a naturally refined and honourable temperament, the scenes of callous harshness stung him to the quick. Unable to bear it any longer he makes a stormy exit, leaving Squeers to think over a good thrashing, and taking with him Smike, the school drudge. Underlying the pathos of the play is a certain subtle humor which is the trade mark of Dickens. The book has been dramatized and acted with great accuracy by the Edison Co. It will be shown at Starland tonight for the last time. This is a picture no one can afford to miss.

EUPHONISTIC

The negro on occasion displays a fine discrimination in the choice of words.

"Who's the best whitewasher in town?" inquired a new resident.

"At the Hall am a hoo 'x'ist with a whitewash brush, sah," answered the colored patriarch, eloquently.

"Well, tell him to come down and whitewash my chicken house tomorrow."

"Ah don't believe, sah, Ah'd engage Ale Hall to whitewash a chicken house, sah."

"Why, didn't you say he was a good whitewasher?"

"Yes, sah, a pow'ful good whitewasher, sah, but mighty queer about a chicken house, sah; mighty queer," Human Life.

A NEAR RELATIVE

A certain well-known but impecunious nobleman, while walking one day in Wardour street, saw a family portrait for sale in a shop window, and went in to inquire the price. The dealer wanted £12 10s., but his lordship would only give £10, so the purchase was not made. A short time afterward while dining with a gentleman he was invited to see his pictures. As he stood gazing with profound interest at a certain one, his host said, "Ah, that is a portrait of an ancestor of mine." "Indeed?" said his lordship. "Then we must be almost related in some way. It was my own £12 10s. of being an ancestor of mine."—Tit-Bits.

HELPFUL ADVICE

"John," asked father, "do you practice on the piano while I am away at business?"

"Yes, father, every day," replied the boy.

"How long did you practice today?" "Three hours."

"Well, I'm glad to hear you are so regular."

"And, I'll tell you the time you practice is the next time you practice. Here is the key. I locked the instrument last week, but I have been carrying the key in my pocket ever since."—Success Magazine.

GRAIN THIEVES

Some in the Nanawo District But Police Haven't Caught Them Yet

Corporal Marshall of the R.N.W.M. P. is still investigating the thefts of grain which occurred during the last month in the Nanawo district north of Edmonton, but no trace has been found of the thieves as yet.

A number of farmers have missed large quantities of their grain from time to time and have now thought it time to call in the Mounted Police and find the thief or thieves. Corporal Marshall is now in the district making a minute search for a cache of the grain. Search warrants have been made out for practically every house in the district and they are being examined from cellar to garret.

Amongst the heaviest losers are Herbert Hutchins, 100 bushels of oats. T. Middleton, 200 bushels. Jas. Horner, 36 bushels at the rate of $4.00. William Bentley, 500 bushels and H. Howard, 400 bushels.
